PostMasterDirect is the exclusive list manager for hundreds of world-class Web sites and list owners, just a few of which are featured on this page. That means when your prospects agree to receive third-party information, we can connect your most critical marketing messages to those coveted inboxes.

And thanks to our patented, double opt-in process, every person on our list really wants to be there. Heck, they even select relevant categories of interest. All of that attention to detail translates into better results for you and your clients!

Yes, thousands of people ask us to send them offers everyday. Shouldn't you be listening?
